

Oldham Loop rail line closure

The Oldham Loop rail line will close after the last train on 3 October 2009. This is so we can start work on converting the old rail line into a brand new Metrolink tram system. Trams will be running to Central Park by spring 2011, Oldham Mumps by autumn 2011 and to Rochdale by spring 2012.

Local bus services running between Manchester, Oldham and Rochdale have been enhanced to provide alternative travel options for Loopline passengers while the line is closed.
